New Works, New Voices:

You Can See All the Stars by E.M. Lewis

Something terrible happened to Ana at a college party, but she can't remember what. In an unfortunately common tale, she must search for answers, wade through the muck of bureaucracy, and try to figure out her enemies from her allies on campus. But finding the truth and proving it has consequences for everyone around her. Who's willing to pay the price? This story by local playwright E.M. Lewis asks the audience to witness the humans behind these all-too-familiar events. Mago Hunt Theater, all shows 7:30 p.m., except October 6th, 2:00 p.m. Purchase Tickets at: college.up.edu/pfa/ or 503.943.7228.

Directing Capstone: Sanctuary City by Martyna Majok

Description: "In post-9/11 Newark, NJ, two teenagers who were brought to America as children become one another's sanctuaries from harsh circumstances. When G becomes naturalized, she and B hatch a plan to marry so that he may legally remain in the country and pursue the future he imagines for his life. But as time hurtles on and complications mount, the young friends find that this act challenges and fractures the closest relationship either has ever had."—Theatrical Rights Worldwide. Directed by Ricardo Guevara in partial fulfillment of the Senior Capstone for the BA in Theater. Blair Studio Theater. FREE—No tickets required
